

HAW: English for Engineering (B1/B2)

This course offers targets and go-to strategies for English-language communication, both spoken and written, in order to effectively execute your daily engineering tasks in a global marketplace. It is based on building blocks such as fluency in speaking, active listening, efficient writing, situational grammar, specialist vocabulary and cross-cultural awareness.